❖ Best Practice II:

1. Title: Extension activities: Serving the Society

2. Objective:

Educational institutes are the centre of social transformation. Offering service to stakeholders and to the society at large is a salient feature of educational system. For this reason 'National Service Scheme' (N.S.S) is popular scheme among the educational institution. Through it the institution organizes extension programs to sensitize learners to the realities of societal issues and the needs of society.

1. To create social awareness and to respond to social needs.
2. To arouse social consciousness among students and to apply their educational principles to concrete social issues
3. To involve students in the process of social up-liftment of downtrodden people.

3. Need addressed and the context

The institute is located at the centre of the city .There are many areas of community needs where HEI can contribute for the cause of society. Students need an opportunity to work and contribute for underprivileged sections of society and upgrade their personality and experience through community service. So there is a need to carryout extension activities as per the need of the society.

4. The Practice

The N.S.S department of the college along with IQAC identified the need based areas where college can contribute to the society by offering community service. Various programmes that are conducted by the institute through N.S.S and other departments includes Cleanliness awareness program, Gender sensitization, Road Safety Awareness Program, Blood Donation Camp, Covid Vaccination Drive with association of different NGO's and government organizations to sensitize students to social & health issues and participate government undertaken drives for the various reasons.

5. Evidence of Success

The response of those who have benefited from these programmes is very positive. Institute received letter of appreciation and the attention of media for the activities conducted by the institute.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required-

The programmes are jointly organised by the institute and other agencies and NGO. It was completely voluntary and therefore human resources are the major resource needed for the great success of the activity. A very motivated faculty and socially conscious students have ensured the success of the programme.
